HAWAIIAN GAZETTE

AN INDEPENDENT JOURNAL, DEVOTED TO HAWAIIAN PROGRESS.

PUBLISHED AND EDITED BY HENRY M. WHITNEY.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 26, 1877.

As most of our readers are probably aware, the establishment known as the Gazette Office presses, types and material of various kinds. is the property of the Government-from whom it has been heretofore leased by Mr. H. M. Whitney. The lease expires with the present year, and this is consequently the last number of the Gazette which Mr. Whitney will issue. In a private letter from him received at this office about ten days since, Mr. W. expressed his intention of forwarding a brief valedictory trance of Allicenii Hale, the following Awa Licenses for article to appear in the present number. Owing to the derangement of our inter-island communications caused by the storm, and the non-arrival of the Likelike, the article in question has not been received at the time of going to press.

THE present number terminates my counc Peteruary next. The following places are designated for tion with the Hascuian Gaz-tte, My brief holding the elections: career as Editor has embraced the issue of fourteen numbers, viz: from September 26th District of Hamakus Court House in Walpio, School. to December 26th inclusive. I consider it proper to say that every line of editorial mattor which has appeared in the Gazette during that time, with the exception of a very few brief items (perhaps half a dozen in all), under the head of "Notes of the Week," has been from my own pen, and for the opinions therein expressed and the manner of expressing them. I alone am responsible. How well I may have performed the duties pertaining to the delicate and responsible position of a public journalist, I leave the public to judge. Henceforth I expect to devote myself exclusively to the practice of my profession. To the many friends who have signified their approval of the course of the Gazette under my management, and who have expressed the desire that I should continue to be its Editor, I return my sincere thanks. To these and to all my readers I wish, most heartily, a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

CHAS. T. RODGERS, M.D. Honolulu, Dec. 26, 1877.

WE hope none of our readers will fail to notice the communication on the "Tax Mud-Afficiant Hate. Six Lois, structe in Amarkai, Watchi, die," which we publish in to-day's Gazette. tahu, and communing respectively 233-1666 acres, 208-1666 It is from a source thoroughly well informed on the subject of which it treats,

In commenting, in the last number of the Gazette, on the decision of Judge Judd in the recent case of Ira Richardson vs. the Tax Collector of Honolulu, we concluded with these words: "It is only necessary to add " that the decision was rendered after twelve o'clock on the last day on which it was "possible for the tax payers to make their " appeal according to law." The fact is precisely as stated; the opinion was delivered at one o'clock of the day in question. Lest, however, it might be interred that the deci-Becomber 19th, D. Kahanu, Kona. Oahu, to place of J. sion had been purposely delayed by the Court, in order that the appeals of the tax payers might thereby be defeated, we desire to make the following statement of the precise facts of the case. The petition of the plaintiff, for a writ of mandamus, was filed Nov. 26th, 1877. An order to show cause why the writ should not issue was immediately made, returnable at i p. m. on the 29th November, (the 28th was a legal holiday). The cause came on at the appointed hour, and the arguments of counsel closed at 2 p. m. The next day, Nov. It was occupied as a cooperage by Mr. Cook, 30th, at 1 p. m., the judge delivered his opinion in writing. It will thus be seen that his P. Adams lost about $2,300, of which $1,500 Honor had less than 24 hours in which to digest the case as presented by counsel, arrive lowing list of losses is reported, on which at a conclusion satisfactory to himself, and write out his opinion. > THE TRAINING SCHOOL FOR NATIVE PASTORS. Those interested in the higher education of Hawaiians will be glad to know of the present prosperous condition of the North Pacific Mission Institute, as the Theological Seminary is now called. There are as many students now under instruction as at any previous time. From this training school must come those who are to take the places now being rapidly left vacant in the ranks of the present native ministry. The present year's studies are in Biblical Exposition, Natural Theology, Sacred History and Pulpit Rhetoric. The students are also now taught the English language with the hope and purpose of soon using English text books in the various departments of a systematic course of study. Any persons who may have English commentaries, such as Scott's Notes or Barnes' Notes, for which they themselves have now no special use, will do a great favor and help forward a good work, if they will send such books to the Institute for the students to use. And any books or papers in the Hawaiian language, which any may wish to put to good use, will be of great value, if given to the library of the Institute to furnish reading matter now very much needed-

CHRISTMAS SERVICES AT FORT STREET CHURCH .-The descendants of the Puritans seem to have to a great extent out grown the antipathy their fathers once entertained toward Christmas and similar festivals, as being relics of Popery. Time was when such a feeling was quite natural and perhaps under the circumstances then existing, quite reasonable and even proper. Those times we rejoice to know have passed away and at the present day scarcely any Christian church falls to recognize in some way the annual recurrence of the two great Christian commemoration days Christmas and Easter. At Fort Street Church there were no services on Christmas day, but on Sunday last the pulpit and choir gallery were bandsomely decorated with evergreens and the services had special reference to the season. In the morning, Rev. Mr. Frear, in accordance with his custom on such occasions, presched a sermon addressed particularly to children, while in the evening, what was termed a "Christmas Praise Emma Kaleleonalani vs. J. #### THE GREAT FIRE! ADDITIONAL PARTICULARS.

as can be estimated is not far from $250,000, of which not much more than one-fourth is covered by insurance. We have made careful this calamity, and have received from them the following information: Messrs Wilder & Co. state that their loss is merely nominal; perhaps one or two hundred dollars. The coal, mentioned in our last as belonging to them, had been sold, and the loss falls on the purchaser, Messrs. H. Hackfeld & Co. state their loss at $8,800, on which: there is $8,000 insurance. The loss of the Pa cific Mail S. S. Co. seems to be a matter of some doubt, depending, as it does, on the amount of coal that can be saved. The Adpertiser on Saturday last put the loss of the Company at $26,000, while Mossrs, Hackfeld & Co. are disposed to limit it to some 200 tons, worth about $2,000. Time alone will tell how much of the coal can be finally saved and how much it will be worth. Our own opinion, however, is that the estimate of Messrs, H. H. & Co, is much too low, Messrs. Allen & Robinson put their less at $25,000, consisting of lumber, sashes, blinds, paints, oils, etc., on which there was an insurance of $11,000; while the heirs of the Robinson Estate lose two buildings valued at $10,000, which were not insured. Messrs, W. G. Irwin & Co. had property destroyed amounting in all to about $20,000. Most of this was stored in the government warehouse and on the wharf, and was entirely uninsured. It consisted of oil, machinery, etc., and was mostly held on account of various coasigners, on whom the loss falls and not on Messrs, Irwin & Co. Messrs, Green, Mucfarlane & Co. lost machinery, hosp fron, cement, etc., to the value of about $7,000, which was insured for $5,000. The most fortunate of all the parties having large interests in the fire, was Mr. T. H. Davies' who had property of various kinds destroyed belonging to himself and parties for whom he is agent, to the amount of $26,000, all of which is fully covered by insurance Among the property held by Mr. Davies and stored in the government warehouse, was 254 bales (265,000 lbs) of Niihau wool, all of which

A. S. Cleghorn & Co's loss of $1,600 was also fully insured. The value of the government property destroyed-warehouses, wharves, etc.-can hardly be less than $60,000, on which of course there is no insurance. The heaviest loss falling on any one individual is in the case of Mr. J. A. Hopper, whose establishment is entirely destroyed. The value of Mr. Hopper's machinery, tools, fixtures and stock is put down by him at $14,000, in addition to which he had between $5,000 and $6 -000 worth of rice destroyed in the Government warehouse. His insurance, as previously stated, is $11,000. The engine and boiler being located in detached buildings with thick walls and corrugated iron roofs, escaped with but slight damage. This will reduce Mr. Hopper's loss some $5,000. Still more unfortunate in some respects is Mr. J. H Bruns, His loss, it is true, is less, being about $9,000, but his establishment is totally destroyed, and he has not a dollar of insurance. The wooden building burned on the opposite side of Fort street, belonged to Messrs. West & Chayter, whose loss we were unable to learn. Mr. E. was insured. In addition to the above, the fol there is no insurance; T. Harrison, $3,000; man Bros., $500; F. A. Schnefer & Co., $800; the loss falls on the principals and not on the A careful investigation on the part of the origin of the fire. The generally accepted theory is that it originated from a lighted cigar or a match being carelessly thrown among the combustible rubbish in the rear of the stores of Messrs. Green, Macfarlane & Co. or Mr. E. P. Adams. We shall probably never know anything more about it. The amount of territory burned over is some five or six acres in extent, comprising a tract about one thousand feet long on Fort street, by an average of two hundred feet or more in width. steamer wharf is completely burned away, the charred stumps of the piles projecting above the water, being all that is visible. We understand it is the intention of the government to locate the steamer landing in future at the foot of the Esplanade, nearly opposite Fort street, and that the necessary sheds and other buildings will probably be erected at that point. In this case the portion of the water front occupied by the old steamer wharf will be reconstructed to serve as a landing place for schooners.

EUROPE. Bonanza" Mackny's Grand Reception

to General Grant. York, November 22 .- 1 special from Paris says: The great sensational event here yesterday was the fate, consisting of a dinner and ball given in honor of er President Grant by Mrs. Mackay, wife of "Bonansa Mackay," at her mansion in the Rue Tilsit. The affair temporarily overshadowed in im-portance, as far as the American Colony and fashion able society are concerned, even the present politi-cal crisis here. The house where it took place cost cal crisis here. The house where it took place cost 1,509,000 francs, and the furniture 500,000 francs. It looks out upon the Place d'Etoile, and is a spiendid residence. The garden was brilliantly illuminated and decerated with the national flags emblems set in a thousand gar jets. An orthestra was stationed in a pariition built out from the house in front of the Rue Tilsit. A dozen footmen, in liveries of crimson and gold, lived the entrance and statirway. Everything that money could supply and elegant taste select, was there to add to the BEAUTY AND IMPRESSIVENESS Of the score. There were covers for twenty-four guests, as follows: General Grant and family; members of the American Legation and Consulate and their families. There were no unofficial Ame present at the dinner. The mean was inscribed on small silver tablets, as in the case of the famous din-ner given to Senator Sharon in Sah Francisco. After dinner a grand reception and ball took place. Three handred guests were present, among them Marquis de Lafayette. Mus. de Rochambeau and De Bols Thierry, the Duc de Rivoli, the Duc and Duchesse de Bojano, the Duc and M'llo Ribon de Troben, Comptes de Beon, Serrurrier, De Montierrant, De Divonne and Excelmans, Baronnes De Delert Delert and DeGleon, Baruns Honbeyran and De Reinsch, and the Viscomptes de Villestruz and Marchand, Duc Decarss. Senator Laboulays, Mme. Henry Martin, Leon Say, Mme. Gunot and M. Cernuschi, The American Colony was largely repre-cented, and the number of beautiful wimen was gery remarkable. The ladies' costumes displayed extraordinary taste elegance and richness commenced early and continued until 4 o'clock
